

Goldmann & Partners, just one year after obtaining the @BCorporation certification, and for the second year in a row, gets the global BestForTheWorld2019 award for Overall. The award confirms the company's verified positive impact on communities, the natural environment, and workers. We consider this award as an important recognition for the strong commitment we have always put into making this world the best possible.

