

Goldmann & Partners, just one year after obtaining the @BCorporation certification, and for the second year in a row, get the BestForTheWorld2019 award for Workers. The award recognizes the quality of the company's relationships with its employees and collaborators, rewarding the company's proactive approach to its human resources. We consider this award as an important recognition for the strong commitment we have always put into making this world the best possible.

